About

VINCENT VAN DUYSEN

Vincent Van Duysen (1962) is one of Belgium's most acclaimed architects, interior designers, and product designers. After studying architecture at Sint-Lucas in Ghent, he gained a few years' experience with major players such as Aldo Civuc and Jean de Meulder. In 1990, he launched his own studio in Antwerp, where today, a team of more than 20 architects and designers helps to promote his vision. A vision that stems from an unbridled curiosity, focussing on the creation of an all-embracing atmosphere. Environment, architecture, interior, and design objects, everything is completely intertwined. His style builds on purism and a sophisticated use of materials. Timeless designs, reduced to their very essence. Respecting tradition, he translates antique and vintage art and architecture into the design language we understand today. The emphasis is always on aesthetics, comfort and convenience. His designs steer clear of trends. They never clamour for attention, they simply stand out naturally for their simplicity and tranquillity. This is not only reflected in his designs for international companies such as B&B Italia, Poliform, Molteni&C, Paola Lenti, and Viccarbe, but also in his Passe-partout collection for Serax.

FITS EVERYWHERE, IN EVERY

PASSE - PARTOUT

When working on the August project, a former Augustinian convent in Antwerp that Vincent Van Duysen transformed into a hotel and restaurant, he met with the Serax team to discuss the production of the hotel tableware. They immediately saw eye to eye. The collaboration resulted in an extensive collection for both professional and home use. Vincent Van Duysen: "The name Passe-partout actually says it all: this collection fits everywhere, in every setting. "The past is reflected in many aspects of this collection. Glasses that are vaguely reminiscent of chalices, and carafes of different sizes that make any bottle on the table superfluous. With the porcelain tableware, countless visual effects can be created by stacking or by playing with the contrasting white and black exterior colours. The cutlery and wooden accessories also follow the blueprint Vincent Van Duysen had in mind for Passe-partout: no-nonsense, a tad nostalgic, while at the same time very contemporary.

Vincent Van Duysen – Passe - partout

Passe - partout – Tableware

The porcelain Passe-partout tableware does justice to its name. The straightforward, neutral design and the ingenious raised edges of the plates and bowls allow you to make countless combinations. With each new combination, you can create a different atmosphere. Sometimes traditional, sometimes modern. But the off-white glazed inside and the matt white or black finish on the outside always ensure a special contrast. The coffee and tea service completes the collection in the designer's typical clear-cut style.

Vincent Van Duysen – Passe - partout

Passe - partout – Glassware

The unique Passe-partout glasses and carafes come in all shapes and sizes, effortlessly linking the past to the present. The intriguing chalice shape makes the atmosphere of a monastery almost tangible. But even when you prefer drinking from a classic-shaped glass, you will find something to your liking: from wine to champagne and from water to spirits, for each drink there is a glass and a matching carafe to serve it. The potassium glasses and the borosilicate glass of some of the carafes make them highly durable. Therefore, they are ideal for the hospitality industry as well as for home use.

"The name Passe-partout actually says it all:
this collection fits everywhere, in every setting."

– Vincent Van Duysen

Vincent Van Duysen – Passe - partout

Passe - partout – Cutlery

The Passe-partout collection by Vincent Van Duysen for Serax is all about simplicity and rounded shapes. The Belgian architect-designer has also extended this to the cutlery. A classic design with a modern touch. The indestructible stainless steel with a matt finish makes the table and dessert knives, forks and spoons look timeless. In short, they are the perfect addition to the Passe-partout tableware collection.

Passe - partout – Kitchen & Table Accessories

The clean lines of the traditional wooden objects follow the architecture of the monastery that was the inspiration for the Passe-partout collection. Archaic and traditional, but with a contemporary twist. The trays, bowls, breadboards, coasters, and the butter knife are made of carbonised ash wood, painted black and treated with a matt oil. This modern finish gives the items a timeless look. Thus, they can be used anytime, anywhere. In addition, the colour contrast with the Passe-partout tableware ensures the perfect finishing touch.

IS

ITALIAN

FOR DINNER

CENA

The warmth and conviviality of a shared dinner were translated by architect Vincent Van Duysen into the CENA tableware. It is particularly honest tableware that doesn't hide behind striking colours and textures, nor behind bold shapes. For this dinner service, Van Duysen started working with the archetypes of tableware. The typical shapes of cups, plates and bowls. These archetypes were then seamlessly translated into the acclaimed Van Duysen signature: warm and purified. No-nonsense. What you see is what you get. "CENA brightens up the table through its combination of various natural materials such as glazed porcelain, wood and smoked glass. Together, these materials create a warm and cheerful atmosphere that perfectly translates to everyone's taste and lifestyle thanks to my familiar palette of colours in off-white and greige," says Van Duysen.

The warm simplicity of the CENA tableware encourages the user to add extra sparkle to the daily eating ritual. Cena is Italian for dinner, "a family moment by which I was inspired for this collection," says Van Duysen. "The CENA collection illustrates the conviviality that accompanies such family dinners. The delicate and sensual organic shapes, but also the suggestive feeling of the glaze, wood and glass."
